

MRS. WALKER (Side #1)

Well, Jim seems like a nice young man. He certainly makes a good impression. I can see what Caitlin saw in him. I wouldn't mind seeing them married someday. But I'm glad they're not rushing into anything. At least she's on the right track — steady partner and everything. I hope you follow your sister's lead... Get yourself a steady college boyfriend, give it at least six years, and then get married. And wait for marriage.

MRS. WALKER (Side #2)

You go to a very liberal college, Caitlin. I sure hope you aren't making friends with any homosexuals... Gay men are a bad influence, and I worry what they might try to do to you. (to song ♪)
